ABOVE: The serene pool and deck area, perfect for entertaining the owners' family and friends, was positioned on the North side of the property to capture optimal sun. The pool's water rests evenly with the deck creating a contemporary reflective surface.

Founding partners of Herscoe Hajjar Architects, principals Rob Herscoe and Michael Hajjar, have created some of the most elegant custom homes in Southwest Florida. The architects and their team's practice of collaborative architecture "first begins with listening to a client's goals and desires," Herscoe says.

To create this open airy home in the Port Royal community of Naples, Fla., and to best convey its expansive water views, the architects created a clean classic contemporary floor plan perfect for family entertaining. For additional information, call 239/643-4010 or visit hharch.com.◆
